

In 2009, various partners joined with the Guilford Historical Society in applying for a grant through the Maine Historical Society's Maine Memory Network Program. The application was successful and thus began a year long effort to capture part of Guilford's history in various exhibits and with lots of old photos. That story and the resulting web site can be viewed by clicking on the link below. While there, explore all of Maine's rich historic past and discover our State as well as our proud town.
